Summer Reading That's Right On The Money

Summer reading lists are a great way to keep kids entertained while teaching them valuable skills for the future.

For younger children:

(12 and under)

The Kid's Guide to Money: Earning it, Saving it, Spending it, Growing It, Sharing It

By Steve Otfinoski

A friendly book that explains money in terms that will interest children and encourage them to act responsibly.

For teenagers:

(13 and up)

Complete Idiot's Guide to Money for Teens

By Susan Shelly

Teaches teens how to get money, save it and invest it, budget it, spend it wisely, and keep track of it.

For you:

Allowance Magic: Turn Your Kids Into Money Wizards

By David McCurrach

Gives you the tools you need to teach your kids about money and money management as you help them develop the habits of saving and sharing.

Give The Gift Of Education

Find upcoming events near you.

Did You Know?

For 2004-2005, the average annual cost of tuition and fees at a 4-year public college in the U.S. was

$5,132. That is a 90% increase in the last 10 years alone.*

On The Road To Fiscal Fun

This summer, why not go somewhere different and learn something new? Here are some cool places to learn about money — in cool cities to explore.

The United States Mint Philadelphia and Denver

Learn about the current state of coin production as well as the fascinating history of the Mint. Tours are available at no charge.

Bureau of Engraving and Printing Washington D.C. and Fort Worth

Watch millions of dollars being printed! Tours take you through the various steps of the money-printing process, beginning with blank sheets of paper and ending with wallet-ready bills.

Federal Reserve Bank of New York

View the gold vault and find out how the Fed stores and protects billions of dollars in gold. Or check out: "Drachmas, Doubloons and Dollars: The History of Money." This exhibit marks the first time the American Numismatic Society's most valuable coins and metal have been brought together for the public to view.

Federal Reserve Banks

There are also Federal Reserve Banks in Boston, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Richmond, Atlanta, Chicago, St. Louis, Minneapolis, Kansas City, Dallas and San Francisco — each with their own unique educational resources that you can share with your loved ones.

Small Business Means Big Profits for Kids

Want kids to learn the value of a dollar? Help them earn it themselves.

Here are a few ideas:

For ages 5-10

- Water plants
- Make greeting cards
- Wash cars
- Collect recycling

For ages 10+

- Pet sit/baby sit
- Tutor/teach
- Mow lawns
- Teach swimming

Helpful Tip: Teach the Value of Saving

Suggestion: Have kids set aside 10% of their summer earnings, potentially for use with their future education.

Payoff: They'll learn the importance of saving and will feel a sense of accomplishment from watching their savings add up over time.

College Industry News

Get a head start by using the summer to connect to college success at Collegeboard.com. Collegeboard.com has loads of great information for students, parents and educators alike, including advice on how to help your teenager make the most out of the approaching school year.

Make a Withdrawal

If you have a child heading off to college this fall, now is the perfect time to make a withdrawal. Simply scroll down to "Withdrawal" to download the appropriate form. Use your accumulations to pay for qualified expenses such as tuition, certain room and board costs, books, and required equipment and supplies to get your student started off on the right foot.

Gift of Education

School might be out, but the Gift of Education is always in. It's great for celebrating birthdays, graduations, sports victories, returns from camp—or any special occasion.

Print out the Gift of Education Certificate for your friends and family who provide for your beneficiary's college education. They can complete it with a personal message, then present it to your loved one for a gift that keeps on giving.

Automatic Contribution Plan

Maximize Your Summer, Maximize Your Savings

Summer break doesn't mean savings break! Make sure your college savings strategy is keeping up with the rising costs of tuition by making contributions through the Automatic Contribution Plan \(ACP\). It helps make contributing to your account on a regular basis easy and manageable.

- Sign up for, or increase, your contributions to the ACP
- Make regular contributions directly from your savings or checking account
- Easily change the amount contributed each month, or as your needs change
